

Recycling in food prep area at St Helena Hospital

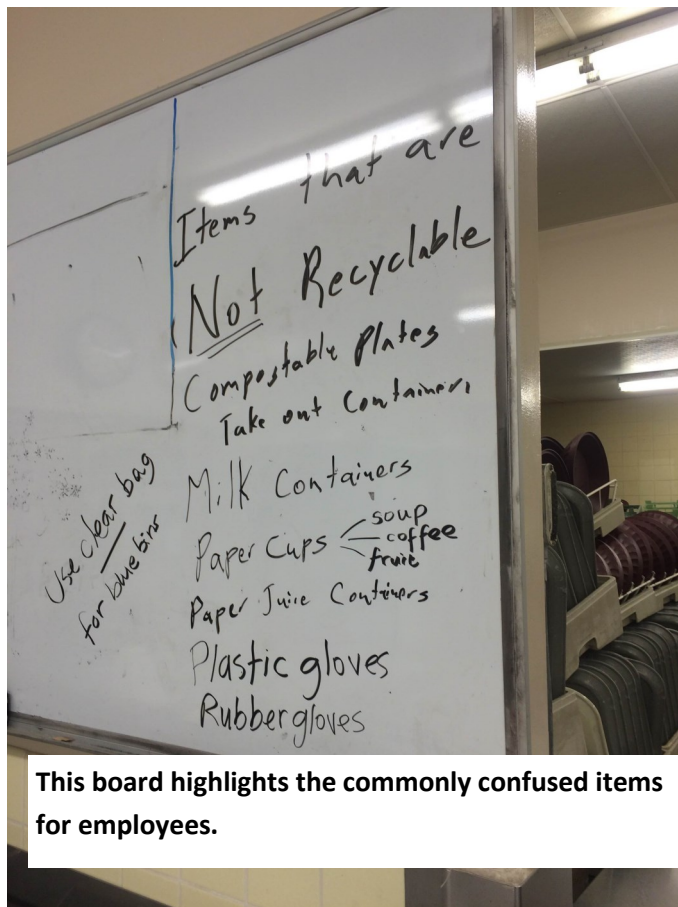

Recycling bins in the food prep area of St. Helena Hospital.

Before recycling, the hospital had a food waste compost program, this tub is where food scraps are collected from returned trays.

Bucket for collection plastic utensils, which will be bagged separately and recycled in curbside toter.

Note there are non recyclable items in this bin, UVWMA staff were able to provide instructions on what should be removed from the bin.

This board highlights the commonly confused items for employees.
