The Atlas Wildfire

Small square sign on the stone wall with illegible text.

- 905 feet — line of sights and sound from 199 Kreuzer to Caldwell Cave fans, 822 to parking lot

An aerial night photograph of an outdoor event in a parking lot. The scene is illuminated by numerous warm white string lights strung across the area. In the center-right, a bright orange fire is burning in an open fire pit. People are gathered around the fire and other tables. To the left, a white trailer is parked near a building with an arched entrance. The surrounding area is filled with trees and dense vegetation.
