10. Please explain your reasons for wishing to serve and, in your opinion, how you feel you could contribute.

Animal welfare issues have almost always been an interest of mine - especially the welfare of animals less fortunate than mine who, after being rescued, live pretty comfy lives! Aside from that, animals with the potential to be classified as "dangerous" need to be evaluated objectively, not emotionally.

My education and background working with both animals and humans qualify me to do just that. I exhibit common sense and am known for staying calm and composed in extremely stressful situations.

9. Name of spouse and occupation of spouse within last 12 months, if married (for Conflict of Interest purposes):

10. Please explain your reasons for wishing to serve and, in your opinion, how you feel you could contribute:

I am concerned about the increasing number of attacks on people from dogs. The public needs to be educated & informed about animal behavior. Most animals exhibit warning signs before they bite & awareness of these indications might help prevent bites to people & other animals. While I believe education is paramount, I also think policies may need to be reviewed or new ones implemented. My contribution would come from years of one-on-one interaction with many breeds of dogs in various settings. I have taken many continued education classes on dog training, particularly aggression. I would like to share my experiences and insight on dog behavior and help to establish guidelines on rehabilitation & protocol on dealing with vicious dogs.
