Other relevant experience or expertise:

I think my writing experience, as well as my voracious reading habits, would be relevant. I also have a lot of planning experience as a teacher and supervisor.

Additional QuestionsWhat is your understanding of the role and responsibility of this board?

From my understanding, the Library Commission acts in an advisory capacity to the Library Director and Board of Supervisors. The Commission also has the responsibility for planning ahead, so that the needs of the communities are met. Once the Commission proposes ideas, it is incumbent upon them to make sure that the suggestions are in keeping with the long range plans for the library. With planning for the future also comes the responsibility of making those plans happen, through legislation and funding. I believe that the most significant and overriding responsibility of a commissioner would be to advocate for the Library and all its branches, assuring the continuance and expansion of library services and facilities.

Have you ever attended a meeting of this board? If so, how many?

What duties of this board are most interesting to you?

Working with future planning, and with community members.

What activities of this board are least interesting to you?

I don't know enough at this point to answer this.

What programs or projects would you like to see improved or implemented?

I would like to see a major outreach to non English speakers, specifically parents, more specifically mothers. It is vital for them to understand what their children are saying, especially when they are around friends. When children begin to develop connections with peer groups, they talk about a lot of things that parents need to know about.

How would you approach improving these project(s) or program(s)?

Develop a program specifically for "listening in" on your child's life. I don't mean eavesdropping, I mean using that idea to spur them on to learning English so that they are able to be better parents to their children, and help to guide them through difficult periods. Parents whose children are lost to them through language barriers are very saddened when they get "left behind" in their child's life.

Are you involved in any organizations or activities that may result in a conflict of interest if you are appointed to this board?

No
