BACKGROUND AND DISCUSSION

Under the COPE agreement, home visitors assist families in accessing resources and developing parenting skills to improve family functioning. Services are provided in English and Spanish. In addition, COPE provides a six-week parent education curriculum (in Spanish and English) that assists families in developing communication skills, builds family cohesion and assists parents in guiding their children through the challenges of adolescence. Target families include families of youth in prevention programs, families in substance abuse treatment with children 10-14, and families with children 10-14 who are receiving mental health services. The original agreement covered the period February 1, 2004 through August 31, 2004 and contained an automatic renewal provision that extended that agreement though August 31, 2005. The amendment revises the scope of work to include new principal objectives and timelines for the continuation of services for the program year and increases maximum amount of the agreement to reflect a full year of grant funding.

The Boys and Girls Club facilitates skill development groups using the SMART Moves program for youth ages 10-14. The SMART Moves program is an eight-week curriculum that covers a range of life skill development areas such as communication skills, decision-making, conflict management, and drugs and alcohol. Upon completion of the curriculum, participants "graduate" into Torch Club, a service club for middle school youth. Through their participation in Torch Club, youth are involved in community service projects that address environmental alcohol and tobacco issues that are of concern to youth such as binge drinking, youth access to alcohol and tobacco, and media. The original agreement covered the period February 1, 2004 through August 31, 2004 and contained an automatic renewal provision that extended that agreement though August 31, 2005. The amendment revises the budget within the same total amount.

COPE Family Center and the Boys and Girls Club of Napa Valley are not health care providers for purposes of HIPAA. This position was taken because there is no use or disclosure of protected health information by or to the vendors under these agreements.
